Subject: Re: Video Rejected: Copyright Infringement

Ok thanx for the info and patience. My video served it's pupose so I'm not mad for it being removed. I added it because I noticed other similar videos on the site and so I felt I was not doing anything against the rules. Thanx for the time and patience.

Copyright Service <copyright@youtube.com> wrote: You Tube does not regularly monitor our members' videos for instances of copyright infringement just as we do not under any circumstances assist members in producing their own videos. We do, however, take copyright laws seriously, and so when we are notified that a video uploaded to our site infringes another's copyright, we respond promptly.

Please check out the YouTube's Copyright Tips at: http://www.youtube.com/t/howto_copyright, where you can learn more about YouTube's Terms of Use as well as guidelines that help you determine whether your video infringes someone else's copyright.

Hope this helps,

The YouTube Team

Does a person process it or is there some other method. Also, knowing that you contain a lot of copywrighted media, why don't you guys remove it instead of wait around for a complaint? Basically everyone else gets away with it while I am now warned about it. Seems odd again. So what would happen if I report the entire youtube website and it's content? Would you guys remove your illegal media then?
